

ARCTIC STAR by Tom Palmer

In "Arctic Star", young Royal Navy recruits served on HMS Belfast. They were in a famous sea battle during the Second World War – fighting a combined attack from airplanes and submarines and the German battleship Scharnhorst. Draw and colour the planes in the sky and submarines in the sea below and whatever else you imagine around them.

ARCTIC STAR by Tom Palmer

Teenagers Frank and Stephen are Royal Navy recruits on their first mission in the Arctic Ocean during the Second World War. They are on the lookout for danger : icebergs and enemy ships, airplanes and submarines. There is also a chance they might see marine life - whales, dolphins, seabirds or even the Northern Lights. Draw and colour what you think they can see on their lookout today.
